

PABLO CARNEVALE

Mr. Carnevale has been commissioner President of the Costa Rican Competition Agency (Comisión para Promover la Competencia – Coprocom) since 2006 and commissioner since 1999. He has an economics degree from Universidad de Costa Rica (1990) and a Masters degree in economics from Ohio State University (1992). Mr. Carnevale has been a macroeconomics professor at the schools of economics at Universidad de Costa Rica and Universidad Autónoma de Centro América, both located in San José. He currently works (commissioners are not full time in Costa Rica) as general manager of a private business that imports into Costa Rica wines and spirits from around the world, and employs 140 people.